

Statement from Shetland Charitable Trust

OSCR approval for governance arrangements

Chairman of Shetland Charitable Trust Bobby Hunter said: "I'm pleased that OSCR has approved the new governance arrangements that were voted for by a decisive majority of Trustees on 12th May last year.

"We can now move ahead and implement changes which the charity regulator acknowledges will improve the administration of the Trust."

Notes to editors

Shetland Charitable Trust is one of the largest such trusts in Scotland. The value of its investments is currently around £224m, with some £192m invested in the world's markets and £23m in the local economy. Funded originally by Shetland Islands Council's "disturbance payments" from the oil industry between 1976 and 2000, it now relies entirely on its investment income.

The trust formerly comprised all councillors plus two independents. This changed in 2012 and it is now a completely separate organisation from the council, with a built-in majority of independent trustees.

Shetland Charitable Trust owns three companies: Shetland Leasing and Property Developments Ltd (SLAP); Shetland Heat Energy and Power Ltd (SHEAP); and SCT Renewables Ltd.
